Welcome

Welcome - - old friends and new -- to the Spring 2008 Edition of Animal Trax News.

My Canadian Scottish grandmother (who had a cottage on the Georgian Bay) taught us about the weather. She said you need two thunderstorms to really turn the season from winter to spring. We've had a couple of storms lately. Nana was right ... Spring is finally here. The snow has almost left Saratoga and the Oklahoma training track, down the street, is getting ready for the horses to return.

Many of us have a story like that, an old wisdom handed down. Common sense, salt of the earth teachings. Animals bring us that kind of education ... wisdom that doesn't have an expiration date. Every day I meet animals who help us put our lives in context.

I love my work. Every day I get to meet true heros, people who "get" the human animal connection. I am in awe of the compassion and beauty shown by people living "ordinary" lives. I am truly humbled by the animals they call friends. To all of you who walk the heros walk with the animals in your lives, thank you.

Lots going on this season so let's get right to it! The phone is ringing off the hook for Animal Communication Clinics, general and equine. Folks are interested in animal communication like never before. Since we're all born with this ability, it's really fun to see how quickly developing communicators can "relearn" these ancient skills. Often all it takes is a little nudge from their animal teachers. Please contact us if you're interested in hosting a clinic or hearing about individual mentoring.

Please join me for the kickoff "Kindred Spirits" book discussion group at Albany (NY) Public Library on May 28. "The Tao of Equus" by the brilliant author and horsewoman Linda Kahanov. More info below.

Have a wonderful spring. Stay well and keep in touch, and thank you again for your friendship and support.

Peace,

Susan Hamlin

We work with performance, adjustment, adoption, relocation, holistic care and more.

Most consultations are by phone, and your animal does not need to be by the phone for this to "work." :)

We are also scheduling barn consultations in the Saratoga region, with group discounts for multiple horses.

To schedule your consultation please call 518-798-2030

Thank you for your support of respectful communication among the species. - Susan

Upcoming Event - May 28
Book Discussion Group: "The Tao of Equus"
Albany Public Library

I am thrilled to be invited to lead the kickoff Book Discussion Group for Albany Public Library's new "Kindred Spirits" series. I'm looking forward to a great evening discussing one of my favorite reads, The Tao of Equus, a brilliant book by Lindsay Kohanov. Hope to see you there!

Date: Wednesday May 28
Time: 7:00 pm
Location: Albany Public Library main branch
Info/registration: 518-449-3380

In The Tao of Equus, author Linda Kohanov intertwines the story of how she awakened to the spiritual presence of horses with compelling mythology, neurological research and personal anecdotes. In the process, she discovered that horses are intensely emotional, intuitive, intelligent beings. They are true reflections of our deepest souls. Join professional animal communicator and composer Susan Hamlin of Saratoga Springs as we explore the human-animal connection through The Tao Of Equus, a story that invites humans to take a quantum leap forward in our relationship with these amazing beings.
